

GLAD THEY ARE ALIVE

Experience of Three Americans in Cuba.

WENT TO JOIN THE INSURGENTS.

Captured by the Spaniards and Thrown Into Prison, but Finally Permitted to Leave the Country—Texas Rangers Battle and Defeat the Spaniards—More Outrages in Guanabacoa.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—James Maguire of this city, Jeremiah Bonds of New York and Charles W. Allen of Stamford, Conn., have just reached this city after a thrilling experience in Cuba, in course of which William Barry of New York, was shot and killed by Spaniards.

On the 10th of last September the trio mentioned, in company with Barry, started for Cuba, to join the forces of the belligerents and arrived in Havana Sept. 21. Here they fell in with Josef Ruiz, a Cuban patriot, who volunteered to guide the quartette to the retreat occupied by the Cuban commanders. They headed for the Pinar del Rio district and when near Mariel in the Guanajaz district, were surprised by a body of about 50 Spaniards.

They were taken prisoners, searched and finding papers confirming suspicions on Ruiz, held a consultation and decided to kill all the prisoners. The conversation was carried on in Spanish, but Ruiz interpreted their remarks for his American friends. Recognizing the desperate situation in which they had placed themselves, the quintette decided to risk their lives in a vigorous effort to escape, rather than to wait and be shot.

Maguire rolled over to Ruiz and the young Cuban used his teeth with such success that he soon had Maguire's hands cut through. Maguire then took a penknife and liberated his companions. It was dark, but the moon shed light sufficient to illuminate the ground for some distance. With a rush the five men ran to the spot where they noticed some machetes and guns. They armed themselves each with a machete, revolver and belts full of ammunition. Then they attempted to get away, but the Spaniards pursued, firing a deadly volley after their escaping prisoners. Barry fell, shot through the heart, at the first fire and Bond's right arm was perforated by a bullet.

The surviving four succeeded in outdistancing their pursuers. They made every effort to get back and recover Barry's body, however, but were unsuccessful and were compelled to make their way further into the mountainous regions of Pinar del Rio, and after a tortuous and wearisome journey they arrived in the region of San Cristobal.

A few days afterward they were recaptured by a band of Spanish patrolers. Their hands were tied behind their backs and they were compelled to march for a distance of over 10 miles, when they were thrown into a prison. The next day they were forced to march again until late in the afternoon, when they were put in another prison, and so they were marched from prison to prison until Havana was reached. Here they were thrown into a well-guarded prison, where they were separated.

On Dec. 23 the three Americans were brought before some commanding officer, whose name they did not learn, but it is presumed by them that it was General Weyler. They were told that Ruiz, the young Cuban, had committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver, which he had snatched from one of the guards. The three friends said nothing, but they discredited the suicide story and were firmly convinced that the young Cuban had been murdered.

The trio of Americans were offered their liberty and passage home if they signed a paper swearing allegiance to the Queen of Spain, and promising on oath to do all they could against the Cuban cause in the United States. This they agreed to, and the three were released.

TEXANS WHIP SPANISH.

Great Victory For the "Lone Star" Rangers in Cuba.

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 11.—A letter has been received here from the Pinar del Rio country to the effect that the "Lone Star" company of Texas Rangers in the Cuban army had again distinguished itself. From the reports it appears that they defeated a much larger force than themselves, capturing the Spanish captain and taking a provision train the Spanish detachment was guarding. It occurred near Palacio, south of San Cristobal.

A detachment of 300 Spanish cavalry was escorting a trainload of provisions along this route, when near that place they were halted by a sudden and fierce fire from the hillside, by which they were passing. It was too steep to charge up and the Spaniards replied as best they could, and taking shelter on the opposite side of the road. Hardly had they done this when a crossfire was opened upon them from that side in their rear, the Texans, who, by the way, only numbered 160 men, ambushing both sides of the road.

The Spaniards then retreated down the road hoping to draw the Cubans out. The Texans seeing them flee came out from one side, despite their officers' efforts to restrain them, and with reckless courage and shouts of "Cuba libre," dashed after them. Getting them well out of their shelter, the Spaniards turned and poured in a hot fire, and then charged. The "Lone Star" boys met them and the shock was terrible. Men were unhorsed, horses thrown down, and men and beast mixed in one inextricable mass.

The second detachment of Texans came up at this moment, and the Spaniards again retreated, this time capturing Lieutenant Stone and placing him in the rear to prevent his comrades from firing on them. The gallant Texans were greatly enraged at this, and notwithstanding that the Spaniards greatly outnumbered them, charged up with such fierceness that the Dons could not hold out. They fell back in disorder, and Stone was recovered. Captain Pavia, the Spanish commander, was wounded and fell from his horse. He was immediately surrounded by the enemy, placed on a horse and taken off the field before his troops could rally and succor him.

The Texans then returned to the train, and taking possession of it carried it into the hills to Colonel Rogero's camp. Tents, arms, ammunition and provisions were in the convoy. The Spaniards left 15 dead and 40 wounded on the field, while the Cubans had five killed and 14 wounded. These they carried off with them. The Spaniards returned to the field several hours later, and buried their dead and took their wounded away.

MORE GUANABACOA HORRORS.

A Small Schoolboy Butchered For Refusing to Hurrah For Spain.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A special to The World from Tampa, Fla., says: A schoolboy of 10 years was killed in Guanabacoa on Thursday evening by a Spanish patrol because he refused to hurrah for Spain. The lad smiled when the soldiers asked him to hurrah, not comprehending what they wanted. They cursed him as a "Cuban whelp," butchered him not two squares from his home and left his body in the street.

In the fields surrounding the city dogs have been seen eating human flesh and gnawing human bones.

More than 500 people have moved from Guanabacoa within 10 days.

Another large pit with dead bodies in it, was discovered Thursday near Guanabacoa in thick underbrush. Decomposition was too far advanced to permit recognition of the bodies. It is supposed that these victims of Spanish cruelty belong to the poorer class of that suburb, as many have been reported "missing" lately.

Antonio Roginy, a native Cuban, forced to leave home as police were after him on suspicion, has arrived here. He says the raid at Caobillias, called a Spanish victory, was a great Cuban success. The town was garrisoned by 500 Spaniards, who had three cannon. Wednesday, Cuban insurgents under Major Sorres seized the outposts and almost captured the entire place before the Spaniards knew what was going on.

The cannon in one blockhouse was turned on the Spaniards and they retreated to the entrenchments. Major Sorres threw part of his force in the rear of the Spaniards and routed them. The Cubans had managed to spike one cannon, but the Cubans took the other two with them, as well as the complete camp equipment, including a large supply of ammunition.

DAUNTLESS MAKES A REPORT.

Denied by Her Captain, 'Tis Said, That She Went to Cuba.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11.—Captain John Myers of the tug Dauntless, in compliance with a request made by the collector of customs, filed with Collector Bisbee an affidavit giving the particulars of the last trip of his steamer, when it is alleged that she left this port for No Name Key and took aboard the arms, ammunition and men deposited there by the steamer Three Friends and carried them, as alleged, to Cuba, where they were safely landed.

The information contained in the affidavit could not be learned officially, but it was gleaned that Captain Myers denied that the vessel went to Cuba. He stated that he was out on a wrecking expedition, and that nothing criminal was connected with the actions of the vessel or her crew on the trip. The affidavit was at once mailed to Washington, and an answer as to whether or not the Dauntless can be cleared for Neuvitas, Cuba, is expected in a few days.

The local newspaper men and correspondents, however, have an idea that the Dauntless may not wait the government's pleasure, as she is very erratic in her movements; hence a close watch will be kept on her. There is an unusually large number of Cubans in the city, and from remarks overheard something is on the tapis.

TROUBLE IN LEADVILLE.

A Striking Miner Shot and Killed by a Policeman While Resisting Arrest.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Jan. 11.—The killing of Frank Dougherty, a striker, Saturday night by Policeman Guyton, has caused intense excitement throughout the city. Owing to threats of lynching armed citizens turned out and reinforced the police guard at the county jail last night, and there is apprehension that trouble may yet arise. It is claimed by the police that about a dozen striking miners, including Dougherty, had planned to "do up" the special police force Saturday night.

Dougherty was shot while resisting arrest. After the shooting no further effort was made to wipe out the police. A crowd of several hundred collected at the saloon where the shooting took place, however, and the provost guard had to fix bayonets and charge before the street was cleared.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 11.—The Thirty-first biennial session of the Arkansas legislature will on next Tuesday elect a United States senator to succeed James K. Jones. As Senator Jones has no opposition the election excites no interest.

INAUGURATION DAY.

Arrangements Being Made For It in Washington.

A BRILLIANT EVENT PROMISED.

It Is Believed That the Decorations, Illuminations and Ceremonies Incident to This Event Will at Least Equal in Beauty and Impressiveness Those of Any Former Inauguration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The arrangements for the inauguration of President-elect McKinley are progressing in a manner very satisfactory to the committee having them in charge, and it is believed that the decorations, illuminations and ceremonies incident to this event will at least equal in beauty and impressiveness those of any former inauguration.

A large number of committees composed of prominent citizens, each having in charge a single feature, are working in perfect accord, and the results so far obtained gives assurance of complete success. All of the money asked for by the executive committee was contributed and a number of contracts already have been let.

At a meeting of the executive committee Chairman Wright of the committee on public comfort reported that he will be able to furnish lodgings for 100,000 persons if necessary. He has already registered 9,100 places where meals may be obtained and 171 windows and a number of balconies from which the parade may be witnessed.

General Clay, from the committee on military organizations, reported that there would be in the parade one entire division from Pennsylvania, consisting of the governor and his staff, division and brigade commanders and their staffs; three regiments of 10 companies each; 12 regiments of eight companies each; one battalion of four companies; one separate company; three troops of cavalry; two companies of naval militia, in all, 8,600 men.

Maryland will send her entire national guard and large bodies of troops are expected from New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and other states. The cadets from the United States military academy at West Point and from the United States naval academy at Annapolis also will be in line, as well as a large number of crack military organizations from different parts of the country.

Applications from many civic societies and clubs for positions are being received, and this feature of the parade will no doubt be unusually fine.

The inaugural ball promises to be an exceptionally brilliant affair. The decorations will be very elaborate, and all of the appointments of a high order. The contract for the banquet was let to Carl G. Essner of Philadelphia, after a spirited competition among caterers in the east. A military band of 65 pieces and an orchestra of 125 pieces will furnish the music from separate stands to be erected at the east and north fronts. The committee of civic organizations contemplates the erection of information booths along the line of the parade and in the business portions of the city, to be manned by the members of the Washington high school cadets.

The usual reductions in railroad rates from all parts of the country are expected.

THREE CABINET OFFICERS.

Sherman, Bliss and Alger Are Likely to Be McKinley's Advisors.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11.—The opinion among those who seem to know is that Senator Sherman will be offered and will accept the secretaryship of state in Mr. McKinley's cabinet and that Mr. Hanna will not be one of the cabinet advisors of the next president. It is believed to be certain that Mr. Hanna will be appointed as the successor of Mr. Sherman in the senate, a place which he very much prefers to any portfolio which the president-elect could offer him. The senatorial appointment would have to be made by Governor Bushnell.

Regarding the selection of Cornelius N. Bliss of New York for secretary of the navy, it is said that Mr. Bliss has been offered the place, but that he deferred his acceptance until he could ascertain whether he could so arrange his business affairs as to permit of his taking the place.

General Alger of Michigan is counted as certain to be the secretary of war.

Senator Proctor Not in It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Senator Proctor of Vermont has returned from Cleveland where he was in consultation with President-elect McKinley. The senator declines to discuss for publication the object of his visit, as he says his conference with Major McKinley was entirely confidential. Mr. Proctor, however, felt free to say for himself that it has been known that he personally did not want and would not accept a cabinet position or any other office.

KATE FIELD'S ASHES.

They Are Finally Buried in Mount Auburn Cemetery at Cambridge, Mass.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 11.—A small copper box containing the ashes of Kate Field, the writer, was buried at Mount Auburn cemetery yesterday. The box was placed in a grave beside the remains of the mother of the deceased. There was no ceremony. The only person present at the interment was a relative, Mr. George Riddle of Cambridge.

The ashes came all the way from California. Miss Lillian Whiting brought the remains from Chicago, and arriving at the Hotel Brunswick Saturday afternoon, the ashes, which were carried in a handbag, were given in charge of an undertaker. The bag was filled with choice flowers contributed by friends in Chicago. Several bouquets were also sent to the grave yesterday.

ASLEEP FOR THIRTY DAYS.

Strange Affliction of Mrs. Van Sagen of McClure, Ohio.

DEFIANCE, O., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Deatrich Van Sagen of McClure, about four weeks ago, while sitting at the dinner table, surrounded by the members of her family, suddenly stopped eating, her hands dropped to her sides, and her eyes closed, she having to all appearances fallen fast asleep.

Her husband carried her to a lounge. She continued, however, in this condition for 12 hours before regaining consciousness, when she awoke only long enough to ask for and drink a glass of water, when she again sank into a comatose condition. In this condition she has remained during the past 30 days, regaining consciousness only for a few moments at regular intervals of 12 hours.

At these waking hours an attendant feeds her a small quantity of milk or soup sufficient to sustain life.

So far the case has baffled the skill of fully a dozen physicians who have been called in to discover the cause or a possible remedy for the strange malady, which is supposed to be due to a diseased condition of the brain.

Mrs. Van Sagen is a young woman, scarce 25, and is the mother of three children. For some time before being struck down by this strange affliction, Mrs. Van Sagen suffered from brain trouble.

SUFFERING OF A SAILOR.

Found Drifting in a Boat Almost Starved to Death.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11.—As the United States revenue cutter Boutwell was approaching the mouth of St. Johns river, late Thursday evening, the lookout discovered a cat rigged yawl flying a flag of distress. One of the Boutwell's boats sent to investigate, found a sailor on the bottom of the yawl unconscious. He was wasted to a skeleton, and his mouth was on his naked forearm, as though he had tried to drink his own blood.

He proved to be Captain Charles Herman of Providence, who left that place Nov. 1, accompanied by Charles Gladding, in the yawl Cochecho, for a cruise along the coast of Florida. When they left Charleston on Dec. 25 they were blown out to sea. Their provisions and water were soon exhausted. Last Friday, Herman thinks it was, the light-house on Anastasia island was sighted.

By this time Gladding was crazy and put off for shore in a boat attached to the Cochecho and undoubtedly was lost. Herman remembers nothing else. The Cochecho then drifted up the coast with its unconscious master until discovered by the Boutwell. Herman weighed 180 pounds when he left Providence. He now weighs only 110.

Tried to Do the Banker Act.

LEBANON, Pa., Jan. 11.—John M. Gossler, aged 40 years, cashier of the Lebanon National bank, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head. He will die. His wife and two children had gone to church leaving him in the house alone. The ball lodged behind the right ear, and when found a few minutes afterward he was unconscious. Besides his connection with the bank Mr. Gossler was teacher of a large bible class in the Lutheran church. For some time past his health has not been good and this, it is believed, prompted him to end his life. His accounts with the bank are said to be correct.

Senator Perkins Hopeful.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 11.—Partisans of Senator Perkins now claim a victory for him next Tuesday on the first ballot for United States senator. The illness of Assemblyman Moultrie, Shanahan and Burnett reduce the number necessary to a choice from 61 to less than 60, and as 60 members are bound by their caucus pledges, there seems little doubt that the claims are correct. Even if Messrs. Burnett and Shanahan should recover sufficiently to be present, the absence of Mr. Moultrie seems at this time unavoidable.

Buffalo Blaze.

BUFFALO, Jan. 11.—The 5-story brick building on the corner of Elicott and Seneca streets, occupied by Altman & Company, wholesale and retail clothiers, was badly damaged by fire yesterday afternoon. The fire apparently broke out on the fourth and fifth stories simultaneously, but its origin is unknown. Mr. Altman estimates the loss at $150,000, caused principally by water and smoke. The firm carried an insurance of $175,000.

Minister Willis Dying.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Latest Honolulu advices, dated Jan. 1, say United States Minister Willis is very low, and his death is expected any moment. The attack of pneumonia which he suffered has led to other complications. The doctors have given up hope. At the request of Mrs. Willis prayers were offered in the different churches on Christmas day.

Spot on the Sun.

GENEVA, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Professor Brooks announces observations of an enormous sun spot now on the sun's face and visible to the naked eye through a smoked glass. It is a remarkable solar disturbance, coming at the minimum period of sun spots. Professor Brooks is photographing the phenomenon with the large telescope.

FUNDING BILL'S FATE

It Will Soon Be Known as Far as the House Is Concerned.

FINAL VOTE TO BE TAKEN TODAY.

It Is the Culmination of the Struggle Which Has Gone on in Congress For a Dozen Years—Probable Program of Both the House and Senate For the Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The fate of the Pacific railroad funding bill, which was debated three days in the house last week, will be decided today, when the measure, with the pending amendments, will come to a vote under the special order under which the house is proceeding. The bill involves the settlement of the $112,000,000 of indebtedness of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific on the basis of an extension of over 80 years at 2 per cent, with an annual extinguishment payment on the principal at the rate of $365,000 for the first 10 years, $580,000 for the second 10 years and $750,000 for the remaining years. It involves as the alternative of its defeat the probable immediate foreclosure of the government's lien and the sale of the property.

It is the culmination of the struggle which has gone on in congress for a dozen years to secure some sort of an adjustment of the Pacific railroad indebtedness on the basis of an extension as it has been apparent for a long period that the road would default when the bonds matured. The interests at stake are gigantic and the friends of the bill are straining every nerve. The opponents of the measure are also active and the result is awaited with intense interest. Each side claims to be victorious. Both sides have made polls of the members upon which they predict their claims.

Before the final vote is taken the Bell and Harrison substitutes, both of which are pending, will be voted upon. The former provides that if the Union Pacific and Central Pacific will discharge the first mortgage indebtedness of $61,000,000 so as to advance the government's lien to a first mortgage the government will agree to an extension of the debt at a low rate of interest.

The Harrison substitute provides for the creation of a commission consisting of the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of the interior and the attorney general for the settlement of the debt on a basis fair to the roads and just to the government.

After the funding bill is disposed of the house will proceed with the consideration of appropriation bills until Saturday, which will be given up to eulogies on the life and character and public services of the late ex-Speaker Crisp.

The Indian and military appropriation bills are on the calendar and before they are disposed of the agricultural bill will be brought on.

IN THE SENATE.

Program Will Largely Depend Upon the Action of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The course of the senate this week will depend largely upon whether the Pacific railroad funding bill passes the house and whether Senator Cameron will call up his Cuban resolutions.

Mr. Cameron's friends expect that he will be in his seat early this week and will indicate his desire as to the resolutions on the Cuban question. If he decides to press the resolutions there will be a determined effort to aid him in this direction, but in any event there are likely to be a few speeches on Cuba.

The Pettigrew free homestead bill is expected to reach a vote early in the week and it is to be followed by the Pacific railroad bill, if the latter bill passes the house.

Senator Cullom, who will have charge of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, said that he expected to be able to report that measure by the middle of the week and that he would ask the senate to consider it as soon as reported.

CHILDREN DEAD IN BED.

Two Are Corpses, a Third Dying, and Their Father Ill.

MURRAY, Ky., Jan. 11.—A sensation has been created here by the mysterious death of two children of Milton Booker. They went to bed well and hearty, and the next morning two were found dead in bed and a third dangerously ill.

Booker himself acts as though he had been poisoned also, but this is doubted. His wife died recently, and since then he has been despondent and has attempted to get other persons to keep the children. The whole affair is mysterious, and the coroner's inquest failed to throw any light on the matter.

The Child Drank Whisky.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 11.—During the temporary absence of Mrs. Frank Norman of Corning, Gilmer county, her 3-year-old child caught fire from a grate and was fatally burned. The mother, attracted by the child's cries, rushed into the room, picked it up and pressed it to her bosom, severely burning herself.

The Child Drank Whisky.

WINCHESTER, O., Jan. 11.—The 4-year-old son of Anderson Stultz, living a few miles northeast of here, arose from bed before his parents and found a half pint of whisky within his reach. The child took a big drink of the liquor and a few minutes later went into convulsions. The child has since been unconscious.

SECRETARY HERBERT has sent to Congress a statement on the cost of armor plate, in which he says that the Government has been charged an excessive price for armor by the Bethlehem and Carnegie Companies. He thinks $500,000 could be saved on the price of each battle ship. No wonder the officers of these corporations are becoming millionaires. At the rate of half a million on a ship over and above their legitimate profits, Uncle Sam wouldn't have to build many such vessels to make 'em all millionaires.

SHAKE-UP IN APPELLATE COURT.

Bolting Democrat Bounced. and Then the Judges Mix Things Up by Electing a Repub.

FRANKFORT, Ky., January 8.—The Kentucky Court of Appeals held a sensational consultation this afternoon, elected some new officers and had a general shake-up. The two-year term of Official Reporter Ed. W. Hines expired January 1, and it was necessary to elect his successor.

Mr. Hines, who has been reporter for ten years, was known as a gold Democrat in the last campaign, and it was generally understood he voted against the Democratic ticket. The four Democratic Judges, Lewis, Paynter, Hazelrigg and White, now on the bench, were all strong Bryan men, and therefore decided to elect another man to succeed Hines. At the meeting this afternoon the names of Judge W. S. Pryor, E. W. Hines, C. C. Turner and R. D. Wilson were voted for, and Turner, who is Deputy Sergeant of the court, finally received four votes and was declared elected. Judge Pryor had declined to accept the place if elected.

The election was a secret one, and the true inwardness of it and the succeeding election to fill the vacancy created by Turner's promotion was hard to secure, but it is generally understood that on the final ballot Judge Paynter voted for Judge Pryor, Judges Burnam and Durrelle for Wilson, and Judges Lewis, Hazelrigg, White and Guffey for Turner.

In the election of Deputy Sergeant to succeed Turner all the Judges voted for young B. L. Guffey, except Paynter, who voted for Colonel Ed. McGrath, of Covington.

Young Guffey is a Republican, and the Democratic politicians are howling about his election to-night. They say it was all right for the Democratic Judges to decline to re-elect a man who voted against the party, but that it is glaringly inconsistent for three of the Democrats to go into a combination to elect one Democrat and one Republican, when it was just as easy to elect two Democrats.

Turner, the new reporter, is a son of Hon. Thomas Turner, ex-Congressman from Mt. Sterling, and is a lawyer of much promise. The place pays $1,800 per year, and young Guffey's pays $1,100.

PAID THE PENALTY.

Laughlin, Bracken's Double Murderer, Hanged Last Saturday.

The Crowd Tore Down the Inclosure About the Scaffold and Saw Him Executed.

[Correspondence BULLETIN.]

BROOKSVILLE, Ky., January 9, 1896.

Robert Laughlin, who was convicted of the murder of his wife and niece, paid the penalty by hanging by the neck until dead.

Laughlin was alone all day yesterday except when he was visited by his family and spiritual adviser, Rev. J. A. Lee, of Covington. He refused to be interviewed by newspaper men and would not talk much to anyone.

It was quite a touching scene when his immediate relatives were bidding their last farewell. His aged father knelt by his side in the cell and prayed. After he had finished he broke from the jail ringing his hand, and crying.

Last night Laughlin wrote a letter to Walling and Jackson. His death watches Messrs. James Hickey and W. J. McAtee said that he slept but little.

At early dawn people began to come into town and kept up in a steady stream until 9 o'clock.

The saloons were closed at 8 o'clock in order to prevent a drunken riot.

About 8:30 o'clock the door of the inclosure was opened to admit the persons who held the tickets of admission. There was a rush and jam that finally overpowered the guards, the whole matter ended in a general riot, all of the enclosure being torn down.

No one was hurt and it seemed that the only desire of the crowd was to see the hanging.

Sheriff Hook went to Laughlin's cell at 8:35 o'clock and read the death warrant after which he told him that he would give him one hour in which to make his final preparations. He spent the whole time in praying, Rev. Lee and Lawyer Doniphan sitting by his side.

He was then taken from the cell and escorted to the scaffold by Sheriff Hook and Deputy Breeze.

Never did a man show stronger nerve. He walked upon the scaffold of death without the least bit of assistance.

Sheriff Hook placed the noose around his neck while Deputy Breeze confined his arms and legs with straps.

Then prayer was offered for the murderer by Rev. Lee, after which he sang the hymn "Nearer Home To-day."

Sheriff Hook placed the cap over Laughlin's face at the conclusion of the hymn and then sprang the trap which fell at 9:29 o'clock.

Exactly nine minutes afterwards, Drs. Bradford and Wallin pronounced Laughlin dead.

The body was cut down at 9:44 o'clock and taken charge of by Undertaker William Hamilton, of Augusta, to be removed to old man Laughlin's home.

The burial takes place Sunday at the old home burying ground.

A staff correspondent of the Enquirer in his account of the hanging and the history of Laughlin's crime says: "One man, but for whose energy and vigilance Laughlin might to-day be alive, has received little mention in the case. This man is Detective Ed. Fitzgerald, whose keen eye picked out the right clues on that fateful day after the murder, and whose untiring energy wove them into a web around Laughlin, from the meshes of which the murderer could see no escape. Fitzgerald was off duty the day after the murder, but hearing of the crime, went down to look around. Without a word he listened to the story of Laughlin, who said that two strange men entered the house and committed the double crime, and that he ran a quarter of a mile over the frozen ground in his stocking feet to summon help. Then Fitzgerald examined Laughlin's feet and found no bruises. He then demanded to see Laughlin's underwear, and when this was exposed evidence of his guilt was seen. In a few hours Laughlin would have had a chance to dispose of his blood-stained garments, and all evidence of his crime would have been gone. Fitzgerald modestly disclaimed any credit for his work, but it has not been overlooked by the law-abiding folks of Bracken County."

ANOTHER BURGLARY.

The Home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hunter, of Forest Avenue, Visited by Thieves.

Thieves visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hunter on Forest avenue last Friday night. Entrance was effected by raising a rear window that had been left unsecured the evening before.

A pair of gold spectacles belonging to Mrs. Hunter, with fifty cents in cash and some fruit, is all the burglars secured for their trouble.

A neighbor of Mr. Hunter's had occasion to step out in the yard with a lantern between one and two o'clock, and the supposition is that the thieves were frightened away before they completed their search of the house, as a bureau drawer was found on the kitchen floor next morning where they had carried it and gone through its contents with the aid of lighted matches.

Thieves also broke into Mr. Ed. Hill's residence the same night, securing, among other things, about $5 cash.

ANOTHER FINE ICE FACTORY.

One With Twenty Tons Capacity To Be Erected on the C. and O. in the East End.

Maysville is to have another fine ice factory and cold storage plant.

The firm of Pearce & Foster who own the plant on Wall street have long contemplated enlarging it, but the trouble has been to secure a suitable location.

This has at last been done, and work on the new plant will be commenced in a few days, some time this week if the weather is favorable.

The new plant will be located on the Southwest corner of Third and Union streets, Fifth ward, on a lot 165 feet square.

The old buildings on Wall street will be used as far as practicable, but all the machinery will be new and of the latest improvement.

The new plant will have a daily capacity of twenty tons, with commodious cold storage rooms. The capacity of the old plant was only five tons a day.

The new plant will be right on the line of the C. and O. which will give it all the necessary advantages in the way of shipping facilities.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.
Offerings Mostly of Low Grades—Demand For Better Grades Strong. Prices Firm.
The Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Association, in its circular for last week, says: On Tuesday the new year was duly installed, and opened up her career in the tobacco trade with moderate offerings, as there was an inclination to feel the market lightly for the first day or two. Most of the buyers were on hand, ready to purchase, but there was some hesitancy in bidding at first, as they were anxious to watch each other, and showed no particular desire to purchase at the beginning. As the sales advanced the competition became more spirited, and prices advanced over the morning sales, especially for the old red fillers. The offerings were much larger on Wednesday, and started firm at the advance gained on Tuesday evening, and continued so all day. Some new tobacco brought very good figures, and there was a desire to buy liberally of the new crop, although the old crop was taken at full prices, and closed firm for all fillers that were sound and sweet.
The sales on Thursday started out with more active bidding, and all grades of both old and new advanced over the two previous days, and most of the sellers were well satisfied with the sales.
Offerings on Friday were very small, and the market closed firm at the advance gained over the first of the week, and we think next week, with all the buyers at home, we can expect a strong market.
The offerings of the week have been mostly of low grades, very few good hogheads being offered, but we noticed a strong demand for better grades, and, no doubt, there will be some good prices obtained if the best grades are offered.
The receipts of new have not been so large the past week, but, with favorable weather, we can expect them to be liberal in the near future.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn; headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page Common Sense Medical Adviser, illustrated.

Condensed Testimony.
Chas. B. Hood, Broker and Manufacturer's agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, Prop. St. James Hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind., testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, caused by la grippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail and would rather have it than any other doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 25th St., Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup, because it instantly relieves. Free trial bottles at J. James Wood's drug store.
